

Experiment 1 Introduction

Brandon Tsang

January 9, 2020

The Breathalyzer is a device used for measuring the blood alcohol content of a person by sampling that person's breath.